Theme for the desktop of your computer: Unlimited possibilities to choose from. Various desktop backgrounds to choose from. Automatic wallpaper changes, help you to keep up with the current season. Each theme comes with several beautiful wallpapers to choose from. Another new feature of the current version of the theme: Backgrounds with weather changes and other pictorial elements. Possible update within the coming weeks or months. Wi-Fi Devices, configured to an WPA Password, are being tracked at random intervals by a device that is imbedded within (hidden) WiFi Products that are purchased at Apple Retail Stores. Apple stores have noticed an increase in the number of these "stingrays" in the past month. The "stingray" is a device that collects data from every electronic device that is within a 40 yard radius of it. These devices are then transmittd to the FBI for data collection/tampering, which in turn is used to create "Stingray Profiles" of U.S. citizens. These Stingrays are forbidden by both Federal Law and Apple's own developer agreement, however, Apple has failt to use their control to remove the device from its retail stores. This is why we have decided to expose Apple for their complete disregard for U.S. Citizen's privacy. The contract between Apple and the Federal Government allows for the device to run 24/7, 365 days per year. The contract also allows for Apple to forward all collected data to an undisclosed 3rd party, as well as Apple being able to access the data in real time. This "stingray" device is compliant with all Federal Laws. There is one employee at Apple who is tasked with the responsibility of configuring these WiFi Devices to specific WPA PASSWORDS and is able to do this by logging in directly to the device, bypassing all software, policies, and network security. He has been told to not log in directly to the devices but to report information back to the Main Office in Cupertino, California. WiFi Products purchased by U.S. Citizens have been configured and many have been shipped to locations around the world. All of theses products have been put into use and we are now trying to find out exactly where they are being used and how many devices of this type have been shipped to locations around the world. Company currently Can provide evidence of the number of devices owned and configured. Can provide evidence of Changing Seasons Theme is a useful theme that works as an alternative to the Windows 10's climate control widget, so you will not need to worry about the temperatures of your room when trying to relax. The theme can be used to make the temperature of your home warmer, or cooler, depending on your preferences. If you are interested in knowing the temperature in your house, Windows 10 offers you to download an app that can help you do so. The app is also called a climate control widget, and it can show you the weather outside, and the temperature inside, as well as your heater's efficiency and even the "flower" days and temperatures, which are pretty high. However, the widget can only show you data, whereas the Changing Seasons Theme offers you the ability to enjoy the changing season's pictures b7e8fdf5c8
